Projects Underway at Lake To Control Silt and Erosion

by Betsy Likowski

Work continues to improve the water quality and health of Greenbelt Lake. The silt pond at the southern end of the lake has recently been dredged and enlarged. And engineering designs are being prepared for stream bank stabilization for the stream in the east end of the "Buddy" Attick Lake Park.

The forebay (silt pond) at the south end of the lake, near Charlestowne North, was dredged and enlarged in early June. A gabion weir was built to force sediments to settle out as the water flows out of the pond and in towards the lake. The weir looks like "rocks in a basket," according to the city's Director of Planning and Development Celia Wilson.

According to Wilson there will always be standing water in the silt pond. Over 1,300 wetland plants will be planted at the water's edge and the rest of the bank will be seeded. The city's Horticulturist, Bill Phelan, will be planting additional plants in the autumn. "I don't think this will be an eyesore," said Wilson.

East Stream

The next project for improving the water quality in the lake is stream bank stabilization and habitat creation for amphibious animals along the stream that flows from Braden Field and along the east trail in the lake park.

There is erosion along the stream, said Wilson, and the intent is to stabilize the stream bank without it looking engineered. Currently there are slabs of broken concrete along part of the stream banks. They were placed there by the city several years ago.

The concrete slabs are working as an erosion barrier, said Wilson. The city has planted plants that are covering the concrete slabs.

The first work will be done on the stream banks not stabilized. The engineers are evaluating all the options, including keeping the concrete and covering the slabs with more aggressive plantings, said Wilson.

The city has hired Dames &

Moore to do the engineering work. This is the same firm that evaluated the water quality problems of and solutions for the lake several years ago.

The city has received about $105,000 in grants for this project—$30,000 from the state and $75,000 from the Environmental Protection Agency. The city must match $30,166 with city funds, which will be used to pay for the engineering work. The city's intent is to spread the money as far as possible and do as much as possible, said Wilson.

The erosion problem is caused by a high volume of water rushing against unstabilized banks, explained Wilson. The pipe under the road by St. Hugh's school, near the east entrance of the lake park, concentrates the water and created the problem, she continued.

Unhealthy Lake

These projects "are part of an ongoing process to keep the lake healthy," said Wilson. Several years ago the lake was found to be full of sediments and possessing a high level of nutrients. The sediment was making the lake shallower and the nutrients were causing algae and water weeds to flourish. Part of the work to clean up the lake was to enlarge the silt pond at the east end of the lake and dredge the lake near the peninsula. This has decreased the amount of sediment and nutrients coming into the lake.

Activity in the central part of Greenbelt, most of which drains into Greenbelt Lake, affects the water quality of the lake. Sediment from such sources as construction projects or erosion and nutrients from such sources as excess lawn fertilizer and dog feces eventually find their way into Greenbelt Lake.

City Plans July Fourth Festivities, Desert Storm Salute, Fireworks

by Elaine Skolnik and Robert Levine

Greenbelt's military personnel who served in Operation Desert Shield-Desert Storm will be honored along with their families during the Fourth of July celebration next Thursday. The tribute to the city's nine service men will include the presentation of certificates of appreciation by the mayor and city council.

The ceremony will take place at 8 p.m. at the Buddy Attick Lake-Park bandstand during the Greenbelt Concert Band's intermission. Emory Harman will serve as master of ceremonies. (In the event of rain, the festivities will be rescheduled for the next available clear night.)

Traditional patriotic selections will be played at 7 p.m. by the concert band conducted by John DelHomme. At dusk, the band will play Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture" to signal the start of this year's brilliant fireworks display. City employees Kenny Hall and Jimmy Kieffline will supervise the pyrotechnic show. According to Hall $7,250 was spent on the fireworks.

The Greenbelt Police Department wants all residents to have a safe and happy holiday. Whenever possible, residents should walk to the Lake-Park. If walking is not possible, parking will be available on Lastner Lane, Ivy Lane, the shoulder of Crescent Road and the section of Ridge Road near the police station. Police Officer George Mathews cautions walkers to be careful because of the high volume of vehicular traffic. He notes that it is illegal and dangerous for individuals to shoot off fireworks and that laws banning them will be enforced.

Now that the city knows it will reacquire Center School for a future community center, the opportunity exists to unify the two areas into a single design, both visually and functionally. According to a city staff re-

SHL Plans Celebration

Residents of Greenbelt and the surrounding area are invited to celebrate the Fourth of July with friends and neighbors at the Fountain Lodge side lawn, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"This is Springhill Lake's biggest event of the year," said Gary Ponder, Activities Coordinator for Springhill Lake. "Residents look forward to celebrating this event at Springhill Lake every year." McGruff, the Crime Dog, will once again be present to welcome Mayor and Mrs. Gil Weidenfeld at noon.

The day will include music by the PRO's, DJ services along with face painting, a water balloon toss, a dunk tank, a moon bounce and much more! Children will also have the chance to meet Springhill Lake's own Uncle Sam and Teenage Ninja Mutant Turtle.

Food will include Italian sausage, pit barbecued beef, hamburgers, hot dogs, fried chicken, corn on the cob, crab cakes, and side dishes. There will be a small charge for each item, but small children eat free. All children who come to the picnic must be accompanied by an adult.

There will be a dunk tank and a horseshoe tournament for adults and pony rides, a moon bounce, and other games for children. There will also be a band playing from 1-5. The firework display is visible from the Legion Post.

New Contracts Seek to Tie School, Center Designs

by Virginia Beauchamp

As the redevelopment of the Roosevelt Center gains momentum, the Greenbelt City Council, following recommendations by the city staff, authorized two new contracts at the June 10 regular council meeting. The first would extend a present contract with Macris, Hendrick and Witmer/Trace Associates, who were hired to provide engineering and landscape architecture for redesigning the Center parking lots, to include work on adjacent land.

The design plan, drawn up by landscape architecture consultants Coffin & Coffin, called for relocation of traffic islands in the parking lots near the municipal building and the Coop supermarket from a north-south to an east-west orientation. Be-port, "the master plan ideals should be extended to the school, and the engineering for the Roosevelt Center parking lots should consider ways to join the school and the center."

With that idea in mind, council agreed to extend the contract with the Macris firm to include site engineering for the adjacent school property. These additional services, which would cost $9,300, would be paid for from the Capital Improvements reserves. Redesign of the municipal parking lots is being funded through a federal Community Development Block Grant.

Topographic Survey

The second contract authorized by council would go to A. Morton Thomas and Associate, Inc. (AMT), which carried out a topographic survey in 1987 of the Roosevelt Center, the surrounding parking lots, and the park land extending north to the tennis courts. Recently the survey has been upgraded to reflect the changes to Centerway.

Because of the firm's familiarity with the area and their access to existing data resources, the city staff have recommended AMT as "the logical firm" to carry out a further survey to design site improvements (parking, storm drainage, and walkways) related to the Center School renovation. The cost for this additional survey would be $5,760.

Sidewalk Reconstruction

A third item at the meeting also related to the Roosevelt Center renovation, the city's certification of final costs of $26,123 for construction of sidewalk improvements on Centerway.

Based on an agreement between the owners, George and Lisa Christacos, and the city, which was signed in July 1979, the owners, whose property line extends three feet out from the buildings on both sides of the mall, would pay for all sidewalk improvements down to the curb line.

ERHS Schedules Piano Auditions

Auditions for the First Annual Eleanor Roosevelt Literary Magazine Benefit Concert will be held in mid-September. The concert, to be held on October 10, will be exclusively for classical piano pieces.

Students should have a piece prepared for the audition and practice during the summer months. Selections will be made on the level of performance only. The concert serves two purposes: as a fundraiser for the Literary Magazine, and as a venue for talented pianists to make use of the school's grand piano.

Asbestos Removal Begins at School

The removal of asbestos from long-vacant North End School is underway. This work must be completed before the structure can be demolished and a new Greenbelt Elementary School constructed. The contractor, Horizon Environment, Inc. of Pennsylvania, expects the process will take about 30 days. Asbestos warning signs were posted on June 12.

The initial step involves the removal of all friable asbestos which is described as "asbestos containing material which, when dry, may be crumbled, pulverized or reduced to powder by hand pressure. It is only when this material is damaged or deteriorated that asbestos poses a threat." Asbestos removal as a State requirement prior to demolishing an existing structure. Demolition of the North End School building is expected to take place by the end of the year. A combination demolition-construction bid will be advertised in August and awarded in October.

Construction of the new elementary school is scheduled for completion in December 1993, with students occupying the building in January 1994.

Still Waiting

To the Editor:

Why does it take three weeks or longer for articles to be printed? I have written two articles about the children in the Greenbelt community in the last three weeks.

Do you realize that the Cub Scouts of Pack 202 are still waiting to read about their May 18 camping trip? The anticipation of waiting has lost its fun. No child should have to wait forever for you to print an article. Should I waste my time writing the articles? You stated that you wanted or invited articles of interest to be submitted. Why should I tell the Cub Scouts or the soccer team an article about them will appear in the News Review when in actuality it may or may not appear?

Lucy Nuaimy

Editor's Note: Unfortunately, the amount of news we can print is determined by the amount of advertising we receive. When faced with limited space for news and features, we give priority to upcoming meetings and events. We are often faced with the choice between cutting an article to a paragraph or two, or holding it for another week. We do apologize for the long delay in printing the Cub Scout story. We should have found a place for it before this.

We do want your news and features but can only promise to try our best to get them in within a few weeks. We are working to increase our advertising so that we can run more features, but for now we will always face hard choices about what goes in and what must wait.

Out-of-Work Support Group Meets Weekly

by Doug Love

The In Transition unemployment support group has been meeting weekly since mid-April, and has had several graduates. It continues to supply unemployed people with job-hunting resources and skills, and the encouragement needed to continue looking for work. In Transition has operated on a cost-free basis from the start, meeting first at the library, then in the meeting room above the Co-op Store in Roosevelt Center, on Wednesday mornings.

In July, In Transition will meet in the Co-op Store meeting room from 2 to 4 p.m., so that participants with interviews and part-time jobs in the morning can attend. On July 3, Doug Love will share some of the techniques that he learned at a recent seminar on layoffs at Prince Georges Community College. Later in the month there will be a brainstorming session on self-employment, and more practice of successful interviewing techniques. It is also possible that a guest interviewer will come to another special evening session to give more practice at dry-run interviews.

In Transition is open to everyone, and is free of cost. Tapes from classes taken by members are still available for anyone who wants to borrow them. For more information, call Marsha Barrett at 982-0365, or Doug Love at 474-8663.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

The Lion's Roar

by Emory Harman

On Saturday, June 29, the Greenbelt Lions will conduct their second clean up of Kenilworth Avenue from Greenbelt Road to Cherrywood Lane. The Lions will gather at the police station at 8 a.m. and pick up over and over until they finish, or drop!

The Lions' first cleanup attempt pitted the Greenbelt Lions against the trash of years. The Lions roared and collected 13 bags of trash and one old tire. They are looking forward to less work this year due to greater public awareness that throwing trash out on the highway is not only a no-no but it is punishable by a fine.

Organic Produce Offered for Sale

On Sunday, June 30, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Mishkan Torah's Social Action Committee will sponsor the sale of organically grown (untreated by pesticides) fruits and vegetables. The farm stand will be located on the front lawn of Mishkan Torah at 10 Ridge Road. The produce has been grown, primarily, on a kibbutz in northern Maryland. The general public is welcome. Kibbutzniks will be available to educate on how the products are grown organically and what "organically grown" means.

Playgrounds Open

Co-sponsored by Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission and Greenbelt Recreation Department, the summer playground program is open to children ages 6-12. This program allows children to participate in sports, games, arts and crafts and special events. Children are free to come and go as they wish, so constant supervision during open hours is not guaranteed.

The playgrounds will operate as follows: Springhill Lake Recreation Center, 12 noon-6 p.m.; Mowatt Methodist Church, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., and Eleanor Roosevelt High School, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Cub Scouts Camp

by Lucy Nuaimy

Cub Scouts Jeremy Bernier, Paul Carey, Mike Faherty and Ryan Hyde from Den 4 went on their first camping trip.

On May 18 we went to Greenbelt Park and had an exciting experience. We made our own lunch of hot dogs, chips and bug juice.

Then off we went for a nature walk with Park Ranger Roxie. She spoke about several different plants and trees. We learned the importance of never picking any plants or berries in a park because they are the animals' food and homes. We also talked about how pollution has damaged the stream in Greenbelt Park.

We learned how to make our own dinner and feasted on hamburgers, potatoes, onions and carrots cooked in foil over the coals.

We had a treasure hunt in the woods, found Indian dance bells, and danced around our campfire to tell the gods to keep the rains away. We must not have made enough noise because it rained during the night. Luckily, we were snug in our tents and didn't get wet.

Breakfast was toast, eggs and bacon with orange juice before breaking camp. It was so much fun that we are looking forward to going again. We would like to thank our parents for taking us.

Seniors Softball

by Jerry Conway

The Greenbelt Senior Softball Slow Pitch Team has been engaged in the Baltimore and Howard County Senior Softball Leagues. Jerry Conway finally scored a grand slam homerun against Parkville Seniors here on Braden Field.

Although we lost the game 18-16, we enjoyed the challenge and we played with zest. On Monday we defeated Holabird 9-4, but last week at Dundalk we lost by a close score. We lose some and win some of the games played every Monday and Wednesday mornings. On Fridays we practice hitting and fielding to improve our performance.

On July 1 and July 8 we will play each of the Howard County teams and on July 15, we will play Dundalk. These games will be played on Braden Field at

Donn-Maass

Allen M. Donn, son of Marjory and Bertram Donn of Woodland Way, and Jennifer L. Maass, daughter of Clara and Merle Batty of New Castle, Delaware, were married on June 15, in the New Castle Presbyterian Church in Olde New Castle.

The bride is a graduate of Goldey Beacom Business College in Wilmington and works in the Chemical Engineering Department at the University of Delaware. The groom, a graduate of Cornell University, is finishing his doctorate degree in Chemical Engineering at the University of Delaware.

The couple will live in Newark, Delaware.

10 a.m. Everyone is welcome. Observe the Greenbelt Seniors in action. These games begin the second half of the 28-game series.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A 15-year-old resident male reported that on June 19, around 7:30 p.m., two other males chased him and his friend, caught him (only) and repeatedly kicked him in the head and stomach. The incident occurred at the playground in the 9300 block of Edmonston Rd. The assaulting males had been seen earlier playing basketball at the Recreation Center, and had driven up to the playground just prior to the assault in a gold car, possibly a Nissan, Toyota or Honda.

ly a Nissan, Toyota or Honda.

Around 10 p.m. on June 18, security guards at Beltway Plaza asked a male juvenile to step inside the security office because he was acting disorderly. He continued to act disorderly inside the office, and cut one of the security guards with a box cutter (razor blade) when they tried to restrain him. He was then arrested for stabbing with intent to maim. A 17-year-old resident, he was eventually released to his mother.

An incident involving open alcoholic beverage containers on the floor of a vehicle, a bag of crack cocaine, and assault of a police officer began when the police officer pulled the vehicle over for a traffic violation in the 6800 block of Hanover Pkwy. on June 16. The incident ended with the arrest of a 16-year-old non-resident male for possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), assault and battery and resisting arrest (he was later released to his parents); and with the arrest of the driver, a 24-year-old resident female, for assault and battery, hindering and possession of a CDS.

When police made a traffic stop on northbound Kenilworth Ave. at I95 on June 18, they found that the driver was driving with a suspended license that belonged to someone else. Since he could not produce any proper identification, he was arrested, and a search incident to that arrest turned up some marijuana in a baggie. He was then arrested for possession of marijuana too. A 20-year-old resident male, the driver appeared before the District Court Commissioner and was released on personal recognition pending trial.

Thefts

On June 18 an office theft was reported at the Greenbelt Step Club (Roosevelt Center). Entry was gained without force; a color TV was stolen.

Around 5:45 p.m. on June 20, cash was stolen from a cash register at Christie's Fashions (Greenway Center) by someone described as male, black, 20-25 years old, 5'8", 160 lbs., unshaved, wearing a green shirt, gray pants, and black rimmed prescription glasses.

Around 9:45 p.m. on June 15, a 26-year-old male of no fixed address was apprehended in the 6200 block of Springhill Dr. just after he robbed a residence in the 5900 block of that street. He had also broken into that residence earlier that day. He was arrested for breaking and entering and for robbery; he appeared before a District Court Commissioner and was held on $3,000 bond.

Vehicles

Vandalism to, thefts from, and attempted thefts of autos were reported in the following areas: Beltway Plaza, the 6000 and 6200 block of Breezewood Dr., the 9000 block of Breezewood Terr., the 8200 block of Canning Terr., the 5900 block of Cherrywood Terr., the 9300 block of Edmonston Rd., the 7400 block of Greenbelt Rd., the 7700 block of Hanover Pkwy., the 7500 block of Mandan Rd., the 6200 block of Springhill Ct., and the ramp from I95 south to Rt. 201 south.
